SUMMARY OF INFORMATION MODULE

The Global Survey of Public Servants (GSPS) is an initiative to generate survey data from public servants in government institutions around the world. The aim of the initiative is to increase the volume, quality and coherence of survey data on public administration.

Understanding the motivations, behaviors, organizational environments and management practices of public servants through surveys is central to (1) better understand how public services and states around the world work; and, (2) help governments manage public services better. Further details, such as our approach, conceptual framework and other resources are available at www.globalsurveyofpublicservants.org.

The purpose of this document is to provide government counterparts, researchers and other stakeholders with an Information module that is not part of the GSPS common module to support and supplement their survey of public servants. By providing this additional module, GSPS hopes to provide both actionable evidence to governments for management improvements and scholarly evidence to further our understanding of how public services work.

The GSPS team are keen to promote the adoption of the other modules in surveys of government officials and stand ready to provide advice on implementation. We are also keen to receive anonymized versions of this module's data to share with the global community and are happy to facilitate the sharing of survey data and resources across teams. For further information, please contact the GSPS team at info@globalsurveyofpublicservants.org.

Translations: An Amharic translation of these questions is available from the authors as used in Ethiopia in 2017.

This module on information was implemented in Ethiopia in 2017. Given the nature of the module, the questions and response options are specific to the Ethiopian context. The purpose of providing this module is to allow it to be used as an example of how the extent of sector-specific information among civil servants can be gauged. The intention is to gauge the extent to which public officials have accurate and holistic information on the rules of the public service (as contained in the Civil Service Proclamation in Ethiopia) and on the characteristics of the citizens they serve.
